HYATT'S MISFORTUNE

Little Stories Told About Baseball

By W. A. Phelan.

BASEBALL figures are plain, simple, and extremely individual—that is to say, the personal accomplishments of one player do not concern any other man except to arouse feelings of envy or superiority. A base hit by John Smith certainly has nothing to do with the hits, or lack of hits, that may be charged against James Jones. Yet a hit made by Richard Cotter, the young catcher of the Cubs, meant the destruction and elimination of no less than four hits made by Hamilton Hyatt of the Pittsburgh team, and Hyatt still rumbles about this strange, weird, seemingly impossible happening.

It came off in Chicago, last October. Pittsburgh and the Cubs were playing one of the season's final games, and Hamilton Hyatt was ramping with his big bat like an angry lion. Most terribly did Hyatt belt, mangle, slug, and massacre that helpless ball. Four times he stalked to the platter, and four times ringing hits shot into safe and sanitary regions. Meanwhile, the Cubs, despite the awful deeds of Hyatt, were holding their own, and the strife was a jangling, tumbling tussle. Late in the afternoon, Richard Cotter, quite a hitter, was rushed up to bat in the place of a Chicago pitcher. Archer, who had been catching, decided to retire when it was the Cubs' turn to take the field; therefore Cotter donned the mask and glove, but legally had to bat in place of the pitcher. The new pitcher, of course, had to bat in place of Archer, and with these changes, the game hummed along on even terms till darkness was descending.

With two runs in the last session, sundry Cubs were on, and the weak-hitting pitcher was due to bat. Cotter coolly walked up instead, presenting himself out of order and one place ahead of his legitimate location. Nobody seemed to notice the trick; the ball came through; Cotter hit it one royal bliff, and the game was over. "Too bad we lost," quoth Mr. Hamilton Hyatt, "but anyway, I got four hits, and that puts me way over 300."

A few days later, president Lynch announced that the game was officially thrown out, and must either be played over or allowed to go as a game unplayed. Hamilton Hyatt was still exulting, when notified that the individual records made that day were canceled and that his four hits were even as though they never, never had occurred!

And thus did the one hit of Cotter kick off the four hits that had been manufactured by Hamilton Hyatt! To realize the full force of Hyatt's disaster, look at his official figures for 1912.

At bat, 97; hits, 28; average, .289. Had the four hits remained, it would have been: At bat, 101; hits, 32; average, .317.

Some catastrophe—and also some violation of all known rules of baseball mathematics!

SHORT, SNAPPY SPORTLETS

TOM MCCAREY has given out the statement that Packey McFarland will be asked to fight Bud Anderson at the Vernon club inside of two months. McCarey said that McFarland might not do it, but he would offer him a date anyway. McCarey stated that he was sure that McFarland could make 125 pounds ring-side.

President Wilson is to be asked to give the proposed Giant-White Sox tour of the world a semi-official tinge by sanctioning the issuance of letters of introduction by the state department to ambassadors and consuls in foreign countries, to do what they can to help the touring ballplayers on their way.

Scout McGuire, of the Detroit Tigers, offered $3000 for shortstop Butler and outfielder Wilkott, of the Stockton club, of the California league. The attempt to get the players was a failure, the Stockton club refusing to part with them.

Barney Dreyfus and Duke Farrell have been watching the workouts of a young shortstop, how with the St. Paul team, of the American association, for several days.

Efforts are being made to arrange a boxing bout between Georges Carpentier, champion of France, and Pat O'Keefe, who was sagged at London. O'Keefe recently won from Frank Mantell on points and claims the world's middleweight title that was awarded to Mantell by the New York State Athletic commission. O'Keefe was outpointed in 15 rounds by Eddie McGearty at the National Sporting club in London in 1911.

Boy Hartzell will hereafter be known as a "suicide" hitter. Hartzell holds the record of being the first pinch hitter who ever knocked two home runs.

MAVERICKS ANNEX ANOTHER VICTORY

Armstrong Comes Back and Wins From Silver City by Score of 9 to 2.

Silver City, N. M., June 20.—After winning on three consecutive occasions, the Mavericks decided to make it four and whipped the long team Thursday afternoon at the Silver City grounds by the score of 9 to 2. The Mavericks have now won four straight, and although the diversion of yesterday will not count in the official record, they are showing at the consecutive victory record. Armstrong, who was knocked off the rubber in the last game by the Silver City team, came back and allowed but eight every day hits, which coming when the paths were clear, promoted two runs only.

The hit column was fought into 12 times by the Mavericks, among them being a four-run inning. Silver City's first grand slam of the season, hitting honors of the day were divided between Armstrong and Tommy Smith. Armstrong got four singles, a record breaker for the Copper league, out of as many times up, and also brought in two tallies himself. Bob Smith also did work with the willow, rapping out two safe singles at an opportune time. Barnett pitched a nifty game for the local team, but his support was wobbly. Four boots contributed to the runs. Five runs were scored by Armstrong and seven were retired by Barnett.

Kiefer distinguished himself when he "ty Cobbied" home. Medina did good work at the short position for the local team. Barker, Ducky Gowan and Harry Barker were particular stars of the Mavericks. Dr. W. A. McCamant was very much in evidence rooting for the visitors.

The score:

HARVARD GETS CHOICE OF COURSE FOR BOAT RACE

New London, Conn., June 20.—The Harvard club, confident and the Yale adherents dubious, the annual regatta today lacked many of the features which have hitherto made these gatherings famous.

It was conceded that the Yale stroke situation was a puzzle. It was stated by Yale adherents that the shift of Denegre for Gore at bow in the Yale scull had entirely upset previous calculations.

Denegre, a heavier and less experienced sculler, was predicted to be expected to upset the delicate balancing of the shell under the English system of seating.

Harvard's slowness were confident that the Wray stroke, coupled with the lucky fortune that had followed the Crimson in the last 24 hours would continue.

When the crews tossed for positions Harvard won first choice in each event and selected the west course for all three races.

Runs over the place and a pitcher out of the box with one wallop. Considering the important fact that Joe Wood was the twirler who walked into relief, Hartwell's stunt is absolutely new.

Both of the international polo matches drew big gates. The receipts of the two games amounted to over $200,000. The exact figure of the first game was $25,000, while $10,000 was taken in at the gate in the second game. The expenses are said to be about $25,000, leaving a net profit of $175,000.

The Kansas City baseball park has been attacked as the result of a suit of $10,000 filed by Mrs. Lillian H. Hays, way for injuries sustained when president Tebeau's car collided with the machine in which she was riding. The team was not in the machine, which was driven by his chauffeur. The attachment will make it necessary that the club bond in order to obtain the release of the park property.

Artie Hoffman, the outfielder secured from the Pirates by the Kansas City American association club, has not reported to the Blues. Manager Carr said he had not received a word from Hoffman, while he wired him to report to the club in Columbus. It is said that Hoffman will not go to the Kansas City club and will quit baseball.

When Joe Trinker, manager of the Cincinnati Reds, decided to unload pitcher Clyde Smith, three teams want the southpaw twirler. The Denver club, of the Western league, kept the twirler, while Clark Griffith, of the Senators, is also anxious to secure Smith's services. The Nashville team also wants Smith.

James J. Corbett has been engaged by Mitchell Bros. to play the principal role in a new feature film. Corbett's former vaudeville sketch will be used as the basis for the film. Joe Walsh has just finished posing for a film for the Mitchell Bros. and William Jefferson is the hero of a feature entitled "Wanted by the Police."

BIG SPRINGS LOSES HARD GAME TO BAIRD

Shortstop McPherson Is Spiked as Baird's Catcher Slides into the Second Cushion.

Big Springs, Tex., June 20.—Eighty-nine every inch but playing in hard luck, the Big Springs Coyotes, lost a hard game here to the heavy hitting Baird team by the score of 6 to 2.

The game was a slow one, two hours and fifty minutes being consumed to make the final three innings of the home club proved costly, each one being turned into a score.

Shortstop McPherson of the home team was badly injured in the first inning when catcher Clarke, of Baird, an ex-Texas league catcher, slid into second with his foot elevated, cutting McPherson's left knee. Nelms had an off day and was wild, but allowed only six hits.

Anderson was touched up for eight bingles, but was effective with men on base. The game clubs play here today and Saturday.

Baird, now making overtures to Jack Hempel, a light heavyweight of Canada, to meet Herrick on Independence day.

If they fail to secure Hempel it is likely that Jeff Clarke will be secured. The promoter of the fight, Ruffus Cameron, has had a hard time securing an opponent for Herrick, and has marked him as a middleweight.

Hard work will be dropped Friday, and the principle of the show to be staged Sunday will include in only light work until Sunday.

HART WOOD BOWLS HIGH AVERAGE

Crash of 6479 Pins in Tournament of 36 Games Gives an Average of 180.

Hart Wood set a fine example for the members of his team by rolling a high average of 180, for the entire season. In the official percentages of the three men tournament just released Wood leads the club with an average of 180 per game for 36 games. Wood participated in every game but three of the season. He made a total crash of 6479 pins.

W. P. Fowler, who would probably head the column but for the disqualification which his team received in the last few days of the circuit, was close on Wood with an average of 172. W. Campbell of the Campbell trio participated in 16 games, with an average of 171. Of the seven men in the first division, Campbell has two, Patschel two, and Wood one, showing that the Wood team was kept at the top of the column by the extraordinary rolling of one member, although Coach of the Wood team holds first position in the second division with an average of 167.

THINK MINIMUM WAGE WILL BE DETRIMENTAL TO GIRLS

Kansas City, Mo., June 20.—That the creation of a law by the legislature, establishing a minimum wage for women and girls in the state, would prove a detriment to working girls generally, was held by 16 representatives of as many institutions employing large numbers of girls at the final session of the House before the senate wage commission here.

It was argued by these employers that the inefficient girls who could not earn the amount that the legislature might stipulate as the minimum wage would be thrown out of work.

The witnesses admitted, however, that such a law would tend to raise the general standard of girl employees.
